Subject: GIK accounting changes

These new rules would add a huge amount of paperwork for museums like Planes of Fame Air Museum. We regularly accept veteran's memorabilia, books and other small items of little monetary value but which are items we can use in our displays and library. To make us document and value each item would really tax our small staff and volunteers.

If pharmaceuticals are your target, limit these changes to health care non profits. Don't include museums in this rule change.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment, Karen Hinton
